"WHATEVER IT WAS, THE VIRUS DIDN'T KILL THE WORLD—THE RESPONSE KILLED THE WORLD."

"The lockdown-until-vaccine response, A MILITARY RESPONSE...killed millions. have to look for the origins of the response...not the origins of the virus."

This clip of Debbie Lerman, a 2023 Brownstone Fellow and retired science writer, is taken from a UKColumn interview with Jerm Warfare posted to Odysee on June 5, 2025.

Partial transcription of clip

"The whole point of my book and my research and everything, the message that I'm trying to get across is it doesn't matter what the virus was. It could have been real, it could have been fake. It could have been from a lab. It could have been from a racc dog. Whatever it was, the virus didn't kill the world. The response killed the world.

"So the lockdown until vaccine response, which is a military response, it is not a public health response, killed the world. It killed millions of people who were injur and killed from the vaccines. It also killed people in hospitals. It killed people who were isolated. You know what it did? It deprived children of their ability to develop normally and of socializing, and it increased every kind of disease and depression th you could possibly imagine.

"But that means what? That means if we say the virus didn't kill the world, it doesn matter whether there was or wasn't a virus, because the response would have been t same. Okay? There would have been the same. So we have to look for the origins of response. We can't look for the origins of the virus.

"We can. We can argue all day long. Do viruses exist? Do they not exist? We can arg Did it come from a lab or did it not? Was it Fauci's lab? Was it Baric's lab? Was it China? Doesn't matter."

Jerm and Debbie Lerman discuss the COVID-19 'pandemic', focusing on the military and intelligence roles in public health, and Deborah Birx's influence. Lerman shares her shift fr scepticism to recognising a global public-private partnership that emerged during the crisis.

They stress examining beyond obvious narratives to understand control mechanisms, questioning political power and accountability.

The conversation covers the illusion of presidential authority, deep state control, and syste barriers to change.

The lab leak theory is a distraction. China is a scapegoat.

The COVID era was an elite-orchestrated event.

Lerman advocates disconnecting from the system to address societal issues' root causes. He book, 'The Deep State Goes Viral,' critiques the power structures behind the pandemic.

This may rank as one of the most ridiculous statements I've ever come across:

"We can. We can argue all day long. Do viruses exist? Do they not exist? We can argue. Did it cor from a lab or did it not? Was it Fauci's lab? Was it Baric's lab? Was it China? Doesn't matter."

Doesn't matter? On the contrary—it's the only thing that matters. This entire military-grade psychological operation—CONVID—could never have taken flight without the foundational belie pathogenic virus. A belief so deeply ingrained in public consciousness that questioning it sounds heresy. But once that illusion shatters, the entire edifice comes crashing down.

If the myth of 'contagious viruses' had not been already embedded in the minds of the masses—zealously defended by indoctrinated bureaucrats and medical gatekeepers—this operation woul collapsed under its own absurdity. There would have been no fear to weaponize, no justification lockdowns, no social license for emergency powers, and certainly no mass compliance.

The fraud wasn't just in the data or the policies—it was upstream, in the fabricated existence of a that was never proven to exist in the first place. Once critical mass awakens to the fraudulent underpinnings of germ theory and the house-of-cards fiction called 'genetics,' the ramifications v earth-shattering.

This is not just a scientific correction—it is a cataclysmic paradigm shift that exposes a multi-trilli dollar deception. The entire QUACKCINE industry—propped up by lies of viral contagion—would collapse overnight. Every mandated injection, every coercive childhood jab, every 'public health' directive would be revealed for what they are: acts of premeditated medical fraud on a planetary

The Harmaceutical cartel, which has amassed obscene profits by poisoning populations under th of 'prevention,' would face not just financial ruin, but an unrelenting tsunami of public rage. Thei —unelected health agencies like the WHO, CDC, and FDA—would be stripped of their false legiti and recognized for what they truly are: criminal enterprises running psychological warfare operat under the banner of medicine.

This was never about health. It was about control—biopolitical domination disguised as benevole Every mask mandate, distancing order, booster campaign, and PCR fraud was a scripted perform a psychological operation—one that could never have succeeded if the virus myth had not been preinstalled in the minds of the public.

When germ theory falls, the infrastructure of pandemic theatre—temperature guns, gain-of-fictio 'virus' surveillance programs, lockdowns, travel bans—falls with it. A grotesque era of human hist will be laid bare, its architects held to account.

Digital stealth passports and experimental injections—marketed as saviours but deployed as too coercion—will be consigned to history's scrapheap. The myth of contagious disease will no longe sufficient to rob people of their bodily autonomy, their livelihoods, or their dignity.

The unravelling of this illusion will devastate not only the Harma cabals, but the entire complex o media, governments, and institutions that enforced the lie. The collapse of trust in 'expert conser will be total. No one who pushed this fraud will escape scrutiny.

This is not just about science. It is a war for human sovereignty. And anyone still defending germ theory is either a willing participant in mass deception—or an unwitting gatekeeper standing in t way of a global awakening.

Once people awaken, there is no going back. The false religion of allopathic medicine, built on fe managed illness, will face its judgment day. And when it falls, humanity will reclaim what was sto the right to health, to freedom, and to truth.

Makes sense to me. I consider it immensely lucky that I mistrust anything from the government.
a tin foil hat way, but in a wait and see way, in a hey, I can always get jabbed later way.

Thank you for the research. It does make me wonder how many of us unjabbed are on a list. Did doctors make an entry somewhere when we said nope. The WHO, I believe does have a code for unjabbed. The military keep track of everything, methinks.
